Making Tracks Down Under

Australia is renowned for being a laid back country, so what better way to see the sights and explore the land down under than in an easy and flexible way?

By combining a rail pass with a hotel pass (which can both be booked with netflights.com), you can choose where, when and what you want to see and have the flexibility to make your holiday work in the best way it possibly can for you.

Don't forget that our Australia Travel Experts are always on hand to help and advise, just give them a call...

Rail Australia – East Coast Discovery Pass

The East Coast Discovery Pass is valid for six months on Countrylink and Queensland Rail. You must travel in the one direction, but this pass allows unlimited stopovers along the way.

Go Koala Hotel Pass

The Go Koala Hotel pass programme is a cost-effective and convenient way to travel throughout Australia. Specifically designed for the independent traveller, the Go Koala pass incorporates over 220 hotels from 3-4½* across the length and breadth of the country.

This is the ultimate in flexibility – you can choose to book your hotels before you go, or buy the pass then book your accommodation as you travel.

The Pacific Coast

The Pacific Coast Touring Route stretches from Sydney to Brisbane, and what better way to see the scenery unfold around you than as you relax in air-conditioned comfort on the train.

From the iconic buildings and bridges of Sydney to the golden beaches of Brisbane, traversing a myriad of towns and villages and magnificent landscapes along the way; there is so much to see and do. Plot your own path with the rail and hotel passes so you can see and experience everything you want to along the way.

Suggested itinerary

Here's a quick suggestion of one of the routes you might want to take using the East Coast Discovery Pass and Go Koala Hotel Pass...

Sydney – Central Coast

Spend the day fishing or exploring the rugged coastline

Central Coast – Hunter Valley

Indulge yourself with a wine tasting or two

Hunter Valley – Port Stephens

Take a trip out on a dolphin watch cruise

Port Stephens – Coffs Harbour

Browse the local galleries

Coffs Harbour – Byron Bay

Walk to Cape Byron Lighthouse on Australia's most easterly point

Byron Bay - Brisbane

Bask in the golden sun on the Gold Coast

South Africa's Garden Route

The Garden Route in South Africa is one of the most stunning stretches of coastline in the world. Stretching from Cape Town to Port Elizabeth along the south coast of South Africa, this is a journey not to be rushed. You don't want to see the scenery 'whizzing by', you will want to soak up the magnificence of the rugged coastline, the intensity of the mountain backdrops, the lush forests inland and the natural beauty of the glorious flora and fauna to be seen along the way.

So, one of the very best ways to experience the Garden Route is with a self drive so you can discover everything there is to see in your own time and at your own pace. Whatever route you want to take, we can book that for you at netflights.com, just give us a call to discuss the options further...

Flights

If you want to fly into Cape Town and fly out of another destination in South Africa – that isn't a problem with netflights.com

With the regional network the partnership of Air France and KLM provides, you can choose to fly from one of 22 airports across the UK, allowing the convenience of starting your journey from your local airport.

Wines of the World

Many of us enjoy the silky fruitiness of a glass of red or the crisp freshness of a glass of white wine, but visiting the areas where some of the world's most famous wines are produced and savouring them whilst surrounded by the vineyards that they can come from truly enriches the pallet.

Wines of the New World are a taste enjoyed by many, but one of the best ways to experience them is by tasting them in the heart of the lands where they were lovingly created.

We've put together a few examples of where to visit to enjoy the wines of the New World with netflights.com. Of course we've not been able to include everything, so if there are other regions you want to visit, just give us a call.
